HOSPITAL WORKERS GET $17,635 MORE

Despite Intense Heat Yesterday, the Small Army of Patriotic Citizens Who Are Daily Securing Subscriptions, Make Progress

$30,000 NEEDED TO GO OVER

Mrs. R. Carl Mountser, Captain, And Team No. 10, Win High Team Honors For Day; Drive On Home Stretch With Objective In Sight

For one day's work the hospital hustlers who are working to raise the fund for a new building, turned in yesterday noon a total of $17,635, boosting the grand total to date for the campaign to $120,178.

General Chairman Kerfoot W. Daly and Sales Manager J. B. Tussing both thanked the workers for the interest and work in producing such a fine report under the difficulty of having to work in the intensive heat. The Independent Slovak Political Club subscribed for $200. The L. O. O. M. No. 103 subscribed for $500. Charleroi Turn Verein subscribed for $500. Glass City Lodge, I. O. O. F. subscribed for $250. Magic City Lodge, F. & A. M., subscribed for $250. The Eagles Club subscribed for $500. The Sons of Italy club subscribed for $500. Knights of Columbus subscribed for $100, and the Gothic Literary club subscribed for $200.

Chairman Daly announced that he hopes there would be more subscriptions made by the clubs and organizations before the campaign closes. To get these subscriptions in, in order to have them count, it will be necessary to have them in promptly. In cases where the lodges or organizations have adjourned for the summer, it is suggested that the executive committee or a group of the leaders or officials assemble and make such a subscription as they think the body might approve in the fall when it meets.

The high team in the campaign yesterday was that of Mrs. R. C. Mountser, Captain of Team 10, who had a total of $3,825. She got the campaign goat and also, as acting commander for Mrs. C. J. Mogan, received the pennant for having the highest division for the day, with a total of $6,517.

In Division "A" the high team was that of Captain D. R. Hornell and Team 4, with $1,025. In Division "B" the high team was Team 6, Walter Urban, Captain, with $1,685. Team 10, Mrs. Mountser, Captain, was high in Division "C." In Division "D," Mrs. John P. Ferry, Captain, and Team 14 were high with $1,805. In the allied towns division, commanded by James T. Heffran, Mrs. Mary Dunkerly of Speers was high with $261.

D. R. Hornell, Team 4, is a double honor salesman, and Walter Urban, Team 6, is a triple honor salesman. The campaign has $30,000 yet to go to reach the minimum objective of $150,000. It seems reasonably sure, according to Chairman Daly and Manager Tussing, that if the workers stick to the job this amount of money will be secured before the campaign closes at least. But Chairman Daly is anxious that at least the total for the campaign be boosted to $200,000 or over in order to make possible the building of a hospital that should be built.

The women in the organization show a particularly fine spirit, it is stated, and are turning out in large numbers everyday at the meetings and are working hard. At the campaign headquarters desk you can always see plenty of women looking over the lists and arranging to secure prospective subscribers. The attendance so far at the meetings has been largely women until yesterday when the men released from the stores on account of the passing of the day sale turned out in good numbers. It is expected that from now on until the campaign is over there will be a good showing every day of both men and women.

Hotel Building Changes Hands-- Was Remodeled

M. Swickard, owner of the Commercial Hotel building, Monongahela, has sold the property to Gregory Brothers of Connellsville. We believe the buyers are the same gentlemen purchasing the Hotel Charleroi property.

The structure was sold through the S. M. Downer, Real Estate agency. It was remodeled last year and fitted as a business building. At present the seven store rooms on the first floor and 40 rooms of the second and third floors are occupied as business offices and apartments. The new owners have taken possession of the property. Among the businesses on the ground floor of the building are: C. B. Anthony drug store, McGowan & Franks news store, H. W. & W. L. McKinley hardware, Army & Navy store, J. Spornak, jewelry store, Dan's tire shop and the Wallace barber shop.

SOLDIERS MINUS SHELTER AS THE TENTS DESTROYED

Omaha, Nebraska, August 8.—A long distance telephone message just received from Des Moines, Iowa, said: "One of the worst storms in the history of Des Moines struck this district at 8:15 a. m. today. Wire com-was severed, trees and telephone poles snapped at their base and a large number of roofs blown off houses and buildings.

"So far no casualties have been reported. All tents at Camp Todd, where several thousand city soldiers were in camp, were blown away and the soldiers were left without shelter, while a heavy rain and hail fell. Practically every telephone line in the city is out of business and all electric light wires are down."

CAR DEMOLISHED AND TWO MEN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

A Chevrolet touring car owned and driven by C. E. Johnson of Mt. Airy, R. F. D. 6, was practically demolished shortly before midnight last night when it collided with the Apperson car of Max M. Roth of Fallsfield avenue.

On the Webster-Monessen road, together with J. Moll of Creighton, Johnson was returning home from been visiting with friends, while the Charleroi car was coming in the opposite direction. It is thought Johnson, who wears heavy glasses, was blinded with the lights of the other car and was unable to see the road. Moll, who was riding in front seat with the driver, was badly cut by the flying glass, while Johnson suffered injuries to his side and is thought to have been hurt internally. Mr. and Mrs. Roth escaped unharmed.

POST LAYS PLANS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Seven new members were initiated into the organization and definite plans were laid for the Post attending in a body at State convention at Greensburg, Saturday, August 23.

The members will be transported to the county seat of Westmoreland county on that day by means of busses and automobiles, and it is their desire to have a band accompany them in order to make a good showing in the parade. The Post also pledged themselves a goodly sum toward the hospital campaign fund.

Advisory Committee Is Announced For Hospital Building Fund Campaign

To assist the hospital campaign for a new building fund in every way possible the executive committee in charge of the drive has organized an advisory committee from among the prominent and professional citizens of this community.

This committee was created by the executive committee to secure the advice necessary in many points relating to the hospital project which require a thorough sifting in order to definitely and thoroughly establish a safe and wise policy so as to safeguard the future of the hospital and its service. In many cases the members of the committee announced today by the executive committee have been active in the campaign with their valued counsel. Some of them have attended meetings; and many others have boosted for the hospital although not holding an official position.

It will be observed that the people selected are all sympathetic with the idea of the campaign because they are interested in seeing the community get a new hospital. Realizing the state would not build the hospital, that there was no other way to get a hospital here except by the campaign plan now in progress, the personnel comprising the committee has for the most part been active for the hospital from the start.

One of the problems that the advisory committee may be called upon to help settle it was stated, is the objective for the campaign. The minimum objective was placed at $150,000 because it was thought that that would be the largest amount it was possible for us to secure with any degree of certainty. This sum, however, will not build the hospital, not to mention equipping it.

The total for the campaign should go over the $200,000 mark at the very least in order to take care of shrinkage, duplications and provide the money necessary to construct a larger and better hospital.

It is pointed out by Chairman Kerfoot W. Daly, that this community will build a hospital once only in the present generation and that it would be anything but wise not to build it large enough and good enough to meet all our present needs, not to mention the future demands.

It is believed that the large organization will push the total beyond the $150,000 mark, but it will depend upon the corporation subscriptions, and the increases in the subscriptions of many people who can well afford the additional money.

Chairman Daly also stated that he time to get the money was now and not to wait until later, thinking that any appreciable amount of money would come in after the campaign was over. In his opinion it will not.

A second and very outstanding reason for appointing the advisory committee is that most of the people on the committee deserve recognition for past very valuable services in

Latest Acquisition to Fleet Owned By the Vesta Coal Company Given Noisy, But Welcome Reception

USED TO TRANSPORT COAL

Coal And Steel Products to Be Conveyed Between Pittsburgh And Memphis, Tenn., And Will Begin Operations Immediately—Steamer Is 163 Feet Long

Last night about 6 o'clock, the people of Charleroi and vicinity were startled by the continuous blowing of whistles on river steamers, the cause of occasion of the demonstration, being the appearance of the new steamer, Sailor, on her maiden trip.

The Sailor is the latest acquisition to the fleet of steamers owned by the Vesta Coal company, a subsidiary to the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, and will be in command of Captain James Rankin, one of the oldest and best steamboat men on the three rivers.

The new tugboat will be used to transport coal and steel products between Pittsburgh and Memphis, Tenn., and will begin operations immediately. Constructed by the Marjetta Manufacturing Company of Point Pleasant, the Sailor is 163 feet long and 36 feet wide, with a depth of seven and one-half feet. It has a draft at the head of six feet and three inches and at the stern of five feet.

Just at present and until there is a shipping stage of water from the Pittsburgh harbor, the Sailor will be in commission towing coal from the upper pools. In the meantime a large consignment of manufactured steel products is being loaded for southern markets.

Five boilers, 41 inches in diameter and 23 feet long, with engines of the compound condensing type, 16 inches by 22 inches by eight feet, drive the wheel, which is 23 feet four inches in diameter and 24 feet, four inches wide, with 421-inch buckets or paddles.

The Sailor is one of the fastest and best equipped boats plying the upper rivers. All steel without iron combines many features and modern conveniences. The cabins and two staterooms are finished in water and fire-proof material in mahogany and buff. An ice plant provides refrigeration for food stuffs and cooling water for eight foundations.

Besides the captain's stateroom there are three shower baths on board, while steam heat can be distributed throughout. The boat is made practically unsinkable through the arrangement of bulkheads in the hull. An old-time riverman has promised the Mail a history of the old original Sailor.

EVIDENCE OF CRIME LACKING IN DEATH

No evidence of foul play of any kind in connection with the death of Edward Hanley, aged 28, Canonsburg, searching for tobacco. He only had burg World war veteran, whose a small sum of money when he left mangled and lifeless body was found on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad at Murray Hill, Tuesday morning, was discovered by Chief David Donaldson on last Monday more, who conducted an investigation into the young man's death at the request of Mrs. Hanley.

Chief County Detective Dinsmore interviewed the party of Canonsburg, and all others who were associated in any way with Hanley late Monday night and early Tuesday morning.

A pronounced wound on the head and the fact that two of the pockets in the trousers of the dead former soldier had been pulled out were the most striking indications of foul play. The investigation showed that the wound on the head was caused by a railroad spike and that probably Hanley had pulled out the pockets searching for tobacco. He only had a small sum of money when he left his home.

BEST GAME OF THE SEASON AT LOCAL PARK HERE TOMORROW

The crack Homestead C. M. C. club, which comes to the Charleroi Baseball park tomorrow at 3:30 p. m., is an attraction that should fill every nook and corner of the baseball grounds. The contest will probably prove to be the best game of the season. Manager D. Cleve Mathers was angling for a new catcher yesterday afternoon, and will probably secure him. At the time of our conversation with him he was negotiating for the services of Venetian, the backstop of the Vestaburg nine.

The C. M. C. club has to its credit victories over the Uniontown Elks, the Braddock Elks, has beaten the Jeannette club twice, and last week played a tie game, 2-2 with what is considered the best semi-professional team in Western Pennsylvania, the Bellevue team. It has also defeated the Homestead Grays in one of the two games that it has played with this colorful organization.

Beatty will pitch for Charleroi, and the lineup of the locals will probably be the same, with the exception of a new catcher.

AFTER EIGHT WINS YDR SUFFERS DEFEAT YESTERDAY

Burleigh Grimes, who met disaster last Sunday at the hands of his former mates, came back with his spitters yesterday afternoon at Brooklyn and got revenge, the Dodgers winning 9 to 6 and making it two in a row.

The Pirates topped a one-run advantage and took the lead in the fourth inning and a few seconds later Yde made an error which permitted the Robins to tie up the contest. The explosion was uncorked in the fifth and in hope the rampage might yet be sidestepped, Acting Manager Jewel Ens called upon Johnny Morrison. Dewey's curves baffled the Brooklynites for a time but in the seventh they were favored with a few breaks and three runs materialized.

This was lucky for the Dodgers as the Forbes Field lads launched a rally in the ninth which brought them a trio of tallies.

HUNT AMERICAN LORE OF 3,000 YEARS AGO

Morley Expedition to Yucatan Has High Hopes.

New Orleans.—Bent upon solving the mystery which surrounds the history of America during a period dating back 3,000 years, the Morley archeological expedition, sponsored by the Carnegie foundation, has plunged into the primeval country in the vicinity of Yucatan, Mexico. During their stay the party will keep in touch with New Orleans by radio and obtain their supplies from this port.

The party includes Dr. Sylvanus G. Morley, one of the leading archeologists of the United States; Earl H. Morris, excavation expert; Mrs. Morris, Monroe Amsden and Mrs. Alma Reed. The latter, who is a newspaper woman, was engaged to marry Felipe Carrillo, governor of Yucatan, when he was assassinated. She is making the trip largely because she knew Carrillo was interested in the expedition, which was planned long before his death.

Stay Indefinite.
The Morley party will spend an indefinite period in Mexico and will endeavor to probe the secrets of America's earliest civilization. More than 100 Maya Indians, descendants of tribes which once dominated southern Mexico, will remove the soil which has accumulated over ancient palaces and tombs of kings in the last 3,000 years.

Doctor Morley believes that riches far more valuable than those found in the tomb of King Tut, and even more interesting to Americans, will be revealed before the work of the expedition is completed. Although only the surface has been touched, priceless ornaments of jade have already been found. The meager records of the Mayas indicate they were a powerful tribe, with a civilization which, in a measure, challenges the grandeur that was Greece and the glory that was Rome.

To Restore Cities.
"It is of no significance whether we find gold or silver," said Doctor Morley. "Of course there is a romantic appeal in buried treasure, but we are going after something more important—and more valuable, too. Under our feet lie the buried cities of an almost vanished race. The Carnegie foundation will uncover and restore at least one of these cities, and perhaps two. "The scientific value of the work will be equaled only by the wonder of the American people when they realize what has happened on this continent before the white man came to the shores of America."

The Morley expedition is one of the best-equipped ever organized. While those who make up the party will be without some of the comforts of home they have an outfit which will make their life luxurious, as compared with the experiences of archeologists even in the last decade.

Historic Salt Springs Slowly Disappearing

Springfield, Ill.—Gradual disappearance of the Gallatin county salines, believed to have been worked on by the Indians, is removing from Illinois one of its most historic spots. Jacob W. Myers, Harrisburg, who has made a study of the salt springs, states that there are now no memorials to mark the spot.

"Tradition has it that from time immemorial salt has been produced and manufactured at the springs in Gallatin county," Mr. Myers relates. "Around the region of the two principal springs, known as 'Half-Moon Dick' and 'Nigger Well,' is found a kind of pottery, the existence of which can be explained in no other way than that it may be fragments of large pots and kettles used in evaporating salt water.

"So little remains of the present site that the passerby would never know that he was on historic ground," says Myers. "About all that is left of 'Nigger Well' is a few decayed timbers in the old well, which is now practically filled up.

Where Iodine comes from

One of the greatest sources of Iodine supply for commercial purposes is Kelp, a large coarse sea weed. This explains why people who eat plenty of sea food never have Goiter; they obtain sufficient Iodine from the fish to supply the thyroid gland.

Goiter Prevention

has been reduced by medical science to the simple matter of using table salt containing a small amount of Iodine. MULKEY'S was the first IODINE Salt to be distributed for this purpose through the grocery trade.

It is just like ordinary salt in taste, color and seasoning quality, and should be used for cooking and on the table.

HOME TRAINING.

Discrepancies of boys—youths of Charleroi, emphasize anew the value of home training. "As the twig is bent, the tree inclines," is sage reasoning. Unfortunately, it is to be observed, that in the home, the boy too often is allowed to follow out his own inclinations, (minus home restraint, inclinations, minus home restraint, with them?

In the old days, boys were seen and not heard. Today, the boy tells his mother and father what to do. And too many of them do it. If father and mother cannot rule the home, what hope is there for the home as the controlling element in the destinies of nations?

Charleroi has a number of boys who are incorrigibles, and whose destiny, unless restraining influence is brought to bear upon them quickly, augurs ill for their future. The borough has its churches and schools, its Boy Scout organizations, and other moral agencies—and yet, boys "run the streets," read trashy and questionable literature, and are traveling the road which leads to moral degradation and destruction.

The boys of today are the men of tomorrow. They will not become the right sort of patriots, the proper kind of citizens, the proper persons to carry on the work which we are now doing, unless their moral fabrics are moulded and modeled in the path of rectitude and right. We must save the boy, if we are to perpetuate this country of ours; we cannot take too much interest in him. But if we are to save him, we must follow in the lines of right-doing and right-thinking ourselves. The boy is an imitator, and is likely to imitate those by whom he is surrounded. The thing to do is to get his mind in the right channels of thought; his life will be governed by the impressions he now gains.

Rev. George B. Krantz, Jr., of Pittsburgh, urges the abolition of Lent and the substitution for it of "something more cheerful and of more positive religious value." It does not suggest what cheerful observance would be of more positive religious value, but says he would like to know "what is the meaning of those tears upon our cheeks" if the Savior "has really risen from the dead." It is strange that a clergyman should need to have explained to him the object of a penitential season of special prayer and self-denial, self-examination and resistance—among the few who actually observe Lent—with a view to some measure of purification from sin.

The Supreme Court has declared constitutional New York's law forbidding the employment of women between the hours of 1 and 6 a. m., and holds that women suffer from late night work to such an extent that it is against public policy to permit them to undertake such contracts. This may offend theoretical sticklers for complete sex equality before the law, but probably there are very few women eager for employment between those hours, and undoubtedly the men now so working would gladly surrender their jobs if they were sure of remunerative daylight employment.

Dr. Charles H. Levermore, winner of the Bok peace plan award, says that the American people are not opposed to the League of Nations and that "the effort of bitter-enders and isolationists to make it appear that they are 'is merely political bunk.'" This calls to mind the fact that the people have never voted either on this question or on the question of Federal prohibition. The result of a popular referendum in both cases would be highly interesting.

Official Washington reports Rear-Admiral Plunkett's declaration that the Federal capital is "the wettest city in the United States," but is called to account the Rear-Admiral may at least submit that he included the floating foreign embassies.

THE OFFICE CAT

The interior decorator who went bankrupt was not a genius.

Few men can remember exactly what they said when they proposed, but it was enough.

When you obey your superior you instruct your inferior.

WHY HE DIDN'T.

A fable. Once upon a time there was a man who never spoke unkindly to his wife. He was a bachelor.

A mah jong enthusiast who finds the ancient finch jump developing in her nervous system. When anyone says "pung" or "chow" to her she jumps terrified as she did in the wild old finch days.

'T WAS EVER THUS.

I held her fast within my arms,
I kissed her rosy lips,
And thrilled my heart with her young charms,
My dreams were pearl winged ships
As dreams are wont to be, they say.
Ah, I fell hard that night in May.
She whispered she would love me true,
Till stars should cease to shine,
And I, believing, whispered, too,
"You're mine, dear heart, you're mine."
"You're mine forever, and a day!"
Ah, I fell hard—that same old way.

Then I went off on fortune bent,
And left my love behind.
And nothing heard, tho oft I sent
Songs of my tortured mind
Till—just a note "Married today."
Ah, I fell hard and she let me lay!

Who would imagine the capital of the nation was named in honor of the grownup boy who never told a lie.

A Charleroi youngster, tired of being awakened by the clanging of an alarm clock, has contrived to make the time piece start the photograph instead. Every morning he is awakened by the jazzy strains of "Mamma Love Papa."

Mrs. Fitz—Our minister is just wonderful. He brings you things you never saw before.
Mrs. Slatz—That's nothing. Our laundress does the same thing.

The first thing to take out of the house when starting cleaning is all the men. This, however, seems unnecessary advice, as usually the one thing they do for you is to take themselves out.

Afraid to breathe, almost, the returned revler crept quietly into his bedroom, as the gray dawn was breaking. Sitting on the edge of the bed, he cautiously unaid his boots. But, with all his care, his wife snored in bed, and he was presently all too well aware of a pair of sleepy eyes regarding him over the edge of the sheet.

"Why, Tom," purred the little woman, "how early you are this morning."

"Yes, my dear," replied Tom, stifling a groan, "I've got to go to Pittsburgh for the firm today."

And replacing his footgear the wretched man dragged his aching limbs out again into the deserted and hostless streets.

"Argus-Eyed"

In mythology Argus had 100 eyes, some of which were always awake. For his watchfulness Hera caused him to guard Io (one of the loves of Zeus when Zeus had changed to a cow and surrendered to the jealous Hera). Hermes, sent by Zeus to steal the cow, killed Argus by stoning him (or another version is that he charmed all his eyes to sleep and then struck off his head). Hera used the eyes of Argus to decorate the peacock's tail.

Baraca Bible Classes

Baraca is the name of a world-wide organization of young men's Bible classes. The word is from the Hebrew "berakah," meaning blessing. The Baraca classes were first organized in the 90's and now number several thousand in 30 or 40 different denominations. A similar organization of young women's Bible classes is called Philothea.

Keep Knives Sharp

Kitchen knives will not require sharpening so often if they are kept apart. Backs for this purpose are obtainable, but a long strip of leather, about two inches wide will do nicely. Nail the strip to the wall at two-inch intervals and you will have separate spaces for each knife to slip into. This will also prove a time saver when looking for the knife you want.

Polishing Brass

A solution of oxalic acid rubbed over tarnished brass soon removes the tarnish. The acid must be washed off with water and the brass rubbed with soft leather. A mixture of muriatic acid and alum dissolved in water imparts a golden color to brass articles that are steeped in it for a few seconds.

Great Painter Prolific

Bryan in his "Dictionary of Painters and Engravers" says that the amount of Rubens' pictorial work was prodigious. A list records no fewer than 2,253 exclusive of 484 drawings. It was Rubens' practice to employ many student assistants. It is not possible to say exactly how many of the paintings are still in existence.

Saving African Timber

Natives of Central Africa in Kebara colony clear farms by means of the hatchet and fire. This has destroyed much forest land, as the farmer only uses his cleared patch twice before moving on to another forest. Forest officers are training the natives in the conservation of timber.

Indeed, She Wasn't

The taxi suddenly came to a halt in the middle of the street. "What is the matter?" called the man from the back seat. "I thought the young lady said 'stop,'" answered the chauffeur. "Well, she wasn't speaking to you, was she?"—Specialty Salesman

Queer Memento

Raoul Coucy, Twelfth century French poet, when dying, ordered his heart sent to the Lady of Fivel, whose husband forced her to eat it. She vowed she would never eat again and starved to death.

Gave Credit to Another

When Glauber, the German alchemist, discovered the salt which bears his name he thought it was the same as the 'sal enium,' which Paracelsus made famous in his time, and called it sal gaudium.

Made Themselves Scarce

London paper—Vandalism day for the members of the Royal Academy was on Saturday. The Saturday visitors really were more vindictive than those of other days.—Boston Transcript.

Cardboard Houses

A new building material made from waste paper has been perfected by a Swedish engineer, and besides being fireproof and durable this product can be made at a very cheap price.

Hibernating Animals

Among the mammals which hibernate are the dormouse, badger, bat and hamster. A number are incomplete hibernators, as the prairie dog and squirrel.

National Party Committees

The Democratic convention of 1948 was the last to appoint a national committee, but the committee's value was not recognized until after the Civil War.

BRAY TO PICTURIZE "OUTLINE OF HISTORY"
John R. Bray (center), planning one of the earlier episodes in the picturization of the "Outline of History," H. G. Wells' epic of mankind's development from earliest times. It is needless to say, that the earlier chapters of the great Wells classic, showing the cooling of the earth and the elementary forms of life, will be made in miniature or cartoon form for the camera. Mr. Bray is the well-known inventor and originator of the animated motion picture.

For Better
and Happier Homes

That's the platform we've been standing on for a long time—although every day some politician seizes upon it as if it were original with him.

Better and happier homes—more comforts, a finer chance for success and the worthwhile things, like educating the youngsters as you want to do it!

There's no better aid in realizing such a goal than a growing bank account.

BUSINESS AT MILLS BETTER

The seven merchant mills of the Duquesne Steel company, one of the largest units of the United States Steel Corporation, have resumed on a 100 percent operating basis. For some time they have been running at 50 percent. They furnish material for the Ford Motor company, the General Motors company, and for export. The big Homestead plant of the United States Steel has also increased its operations.

Advices from the East say that the Bethlehem Steel company is starting another blast furnace. The rail mill at the company's Steelton plant which has been shut down since the first of July, will resume on single turn basis. The bar plant at the Lackawanna plant, which has been on single turn for some time, was to resume on double turn this week.

Valuable Man

His son was a graduate of a financial school in the Middle West, he was in New York on other business and he dropped into a bucketshop a few months ago to see about getting the young man a position.

"I think he could write those market letters that you mail me," said the father rather doubtfully, after explaining the scope of the young man's accomplishments.

"Yes," inquired the office manager hopefully.

Further encouraged, the father continued: "I'm sure he could. There's just one thing you'd have to watch him for. He's liable to change his mind every few minutes."

"Every few minutes?" exclaimed the office manager. "An invaluable man! Tell him to call on me!"—Wall Street Journal.

"Platonic Year"

The term "platonic year" is used in astronomy to denote the period of time required for the equinoxes to complete their revolution. The duration of this period is estimated at about 26,000 years, at the expiration of which time the various stars and constellations occupy the same positions relative to the equinoxes, that they did at the beginning. Tycho Brahe computed the length of the platonic year at 25,816 years; Riccioli at 25,920 years. It is also called the great year.

Worse to Come

Having been served with a wedge of some yellow substance the husband poked at it cautiously with his fork and finally turned it over heavily on his plate, asking: "What is this?" "Pound cake. What of it?" the wife replied.

"Nothing," said the husband. "I thought my section weighed more than a pound. What are you going to make next?" "Marble cake," said the wife, defiantly.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

"WANDERER OF THE WASTELAND"

"Wanderer of the Wasteland," a Zane Grey Paramount production, directed by Irvin Willat and featuring in the employ of the state department Beery and Billie Dove, comes to the Coyle Theatre on Monday next to remain for four days.

You've heard about the wonderful color photograph in Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments?" Well, this one's done entirely in color. There's not a black and white sequence throughout the length of the film. Think of it!

Even if it weren't for the great story it really is, you should go see this picture just for the novelty of the thing. Remember, it's the very first really practical all-color production to be shown on the screen anywhere. But it's more than just a novelty—much more. It's Zane Grey's greatest story brought to life. They say you can even see the different shades of sunburn on the players! Skeptical? Why not take it in?

TO HAVE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

With the completion of the new high school building in Monongahela, and its occupation on Tuesday, September 2, by the high school, Monongahela will begin a new feature by installing the Junior High, which will be located in the Central building, heretofore used as the high school.

The entire list of teachers for the forthcoming year has been selected and assigned to their respective structures. There will be a total of 68 pedagogues in the city named, the largest number the school district ever employed.

Of this number there are 16 high school instructors, nine junior high, five special teachers, and 37 grade instructors. With the new high school building, Monongahela is expecting greater latitude in high school work.

Last evening at home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gaskill of Fourth street North Charleroi, the sales force of the store of J. W. Berryman & Son accorded Mrs. Edgar M. Anthony, a recent bride, a miscellaneous shower. Approximately 25 guests were present and the evening was pleasantly spent in sewing, social converse and music. Mrs. Anthony was presented with many gifts, among which was a beautiful dress, a set of toilet cloth and napkins to match. At a later hour a dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. Gaskill with the assistance of Mrs. John Anthony and Mrs. Hiram Foulks.

An enjoyable social hour followed, during which time a delightful luncheon was served by the hostess. There were eleven regular members present and one visitor, Mrs. Emil Vandermere. The next meeting will be held at the home of Irene Voelker of North Charleroi.

The Zananna class of the Methodist Episcopal church with their friends, 75 in number, were entertained at a Japanese Garden party last evening held on the lawn surrounding the home of Mrs. Thomas T. Owens. Decorations, which were beautiful, were carried out in Japanese style consisting of Japanese lanterns, umbrellas and baskets of cut flowers. A candy booth was the center of attraction. Dorothy Stephens and Betty Yon entertained with readings, rendered in their usual pleasing manner. Refreshments were served at a late hour by the hostesses, who were attired in Japanese costumes, namely, Mesdames Owens, Eagye, Pyle, Keibler, Watters, Fernan, Blaker, Majors, Welch and Beverly.

Miss Rosetta Rodgers was guest of honor at the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon, held in the Sunday School room. She gave an interesting talk on Mexico, its educational advantages and explained some new projects taken up by the new president of Mexico. Miss Rodgers also had a fine collection of Mexican handwork on display. During the short business session, Mrs. W. B. Pfeighardt officiated as president, in the absence of Mrs. Edwin McKay. There were approximately 30 members present who voted the afternoon a very interesting and pleasant one, when adjournment was made after the serving of a dainty luncheon. The hostesses were Mrs. Chauncey Collins, Mrs. Charles E. Hill, Mrs. Thomas Kendrick, and Mrs. William Evans.

Was Good Judge of Liquor

"Since a young man I had a liking for liquor and was considered a pretty good judge of it at one time, but constant drinking gave me stomach trouble which became chronic. My stomach would have been a valuable addition to a gas factory. Doctors did not seem to relieve me. One day my druggist got me to try May's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now as good as new." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the extra mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

Oil Well Drilled Is Making 75 Barrels— Near The County Seat

It was reported last night that the oil well on the R. G. Lutton farm, northeast of Washington on the Hill Church road, was making 75 barrels a day and that the drilling had not yet been completed. The strike was made in the Fourth sand and has quickened interest in oil and gas circles.

Interested in the well are E. H. Tague, contracting driller; the New Oil and Gas company, and P. G. Lutton. They have a total of 350 acres, under lease in the district, which is new territory, never having been drilled over in the quest for the valuable fuels in that section.

The Lutton well flowed 60 barrels yesterday. The boiler has been moved back and a tank is being built. It is expected that drilling will be resumed today. The well flowed 30 barrels when drilled in on Wednesday.

V. O. Zahniser and E. H. Tague have received word that an oil strike was made on a lease of 160 acres held by them in Licking county, O., 15 miles west of Zanesville, and that it was making 125 barrels daily from the Clinton sand, which was reached at a depth of 3,057 feet. Two more wells have been located on the lease. Mr. Zahniser is president of a company which has leased 3,400 acres in that section of Ohio.

EVIDENCE OF CRIME

LACKING IN DEATH

Clement Montabune, who resides just below Canonsburg, and was on his way home from work at the Standard tin mills came along and was stopped. Hanley insisted on getting in the car to ride and finally did so.

Montabune said that Hanley got out of his car at the one-way bridge over the railroad track just below Morgantown. He said Hanley was staggering about so badly that he stopped another machine and warned the driver to be on the lookout for Hanley when he reached the bridge.

Considering his condition, it is believed by Chief County Detective Dinsmore and others that Hanley staggered down the bank at the bridge on to the railroad tracks where he fell asleep and was run over by the early morning passenger train to Pittsburgh. His left arm and right leg were severed from his body.

Home Fires Kept Burning

There are domestic fires burning in Yorkshire today which have never been out for hundreds of years.

At the old-fashioned farmhouses in the date of Yorkshire peat is still burned. The fuel is obtained from the moors, and stacks of it are kept by the farmers in their back gardens. The country roundabout is noted for its griddle cakes, which are made from dough baked in quaint pans suspended over the peat fires, says the London Times.

These fires are kept glowing from generation to generation, and the son warns himself at the fire which warmed his sire and his grandfathers' fire and which will warm his son and his son's son.

There is a fire at Castleton, in the Whithy district, which has been burning over 200 years. The record probably is held by a farmhouse at Osmothery, in the same district. This fire has been burning for 500 years and there are records to show that it has not been out during the last three centuries.

Exploration for Truth

Forewarned that the vice of the times and the country is an excessive pretension, let us seek the shade, and find wisdom in neglect. Be content with a little light, so be your own explorer, and explore. Be neither child nor flattered out of your position of perpetual inquiry. Neither dogmatize, nor accept another's dogmatism. Why should you renounce your right to traverse the stardit deserts of truth, for the premature comforts of an acre, house, and barn? Truth also has its roof and bed, and board. Make yourself necessary to the world, and mankind will give you bread and, if not store of it, yet as shall not take away your property in all men's possessions, in all men's affections, in art, in nature, and in hope.

Cuckoo Superstitions

There are numerous superstitions associated with the hearing of the cuckoo's first call. In the maritime Highlands and Hebrides, if the cuckoo is first heard by one who has not broken his fast, some misfortune is expected. Indeed, besides the danger, it is considered a reproach to one to have heard the cuckoo while hungry. In France to hear the cuckoo for the first time fasting is to make the hearer "an idle do-nothing for the rest of the year," or "to numb his limbs" for the same period. There is a similar belief in certain parts of the west of England. In Northumberland one is told, if walking on a hard road when the cuckoo first calls, that the ensuing season will be full of calamity; to be on soft ground is a lucky omen.

MEN GRASP THE OPPORTUNITY AS KNOCKS AT DOOR

New York, August 8. — The Van Sweringen boys of Cleveland, one time newspaper peddlers in Geneva, Ohio, today stand out as two of the outstanding railroad manipulators of the generation.

By the consolidation of the Nickel Plate system with the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Hocking Valley, Pere Marquette, and the Erie, they have reached the crest of their operations which started with a trolley car system in a Cleveland sub-division. The merger, semi-officially announced, will mean a single system with total assets of $1,500,000,000 and a total trackage of 14,357 miles, the fourth largest railroad system in the East.

The Central Avenue in the mammoth merger, which rivals those in the day of E. H. Harriman and Jay Gould are like characters out of fiction. Orris P. and Mantis J. Van Sweringen are from the old school of hard knocks. Theirs is a history of self-education and of the ability to grab opportunity when it knocked at the door.

After selling papers in Geneva the two boys and their mother moved to Cleveland some 32 years ago. The boys went to work as office boys. Their mother died about that time.

From office boys they advanced to under clerks in a real estate office. There they saw the profit to be realized from speculative investments. After manipulating with small lots they finally had an opportunity to purchase 2,000 acres on the outskirts of Cleveland. They did this with borrowed capital.

Seeing the need of a tram system in the sub-division, they appealed to the Cleveland railroad and were met with a few laughs. That was where the Van Sweringen railroad control started. The two boys built their own tram system.

The sub-division and the tram system proved profitable and within a few years the two Van Sweringens were wealthy. This wealth was added to and in 1916 the Van Sweringens first became known in the railroad circles through the purchase of the Nickel Plate system.

Then they visualized the merger which would give two eastern outlets—New York and Newport News—to such cities as Chicago, Cleveland, St. Louis, Peoria, Toledo and Detroit. Both are under 45 years old. They apparently have made good their visualization.

By terms of the merger just completed there will be two classes of stock, six percent cumulative preferred and six percent common stock.

The general terms
Erie first and second preferred, 50 percent in preferred stock of new company; Erie common, 40 percent in new common stock.
Pere Marquette preferred, 90 percent in new preferred stock giving to holder 5.40 per cent return instead of 5 percent; for prior preference stock 100 per cent in new preferred bearing six per cent instead of five; common stock 35 per cent in new common.

C. & O., S-1 preferred stock, 113 per cent in new preferred giving 6.50 per cent instead of 6.50; common stock 55 per cent in new preferred and 55 per cent in new common.
Hocking Valley common, 50 per cent in new preferred and 50 per cent in new common yielding 6 per cent instead of 4.

For Nickel Plate common and preferred, equal amounts of the new stock.

The Nickel plate holds large blocks of C. & O. and Pere Marquette stock. It will continue as the holding company, having disposed of its fixed property to the new company, it is understood.

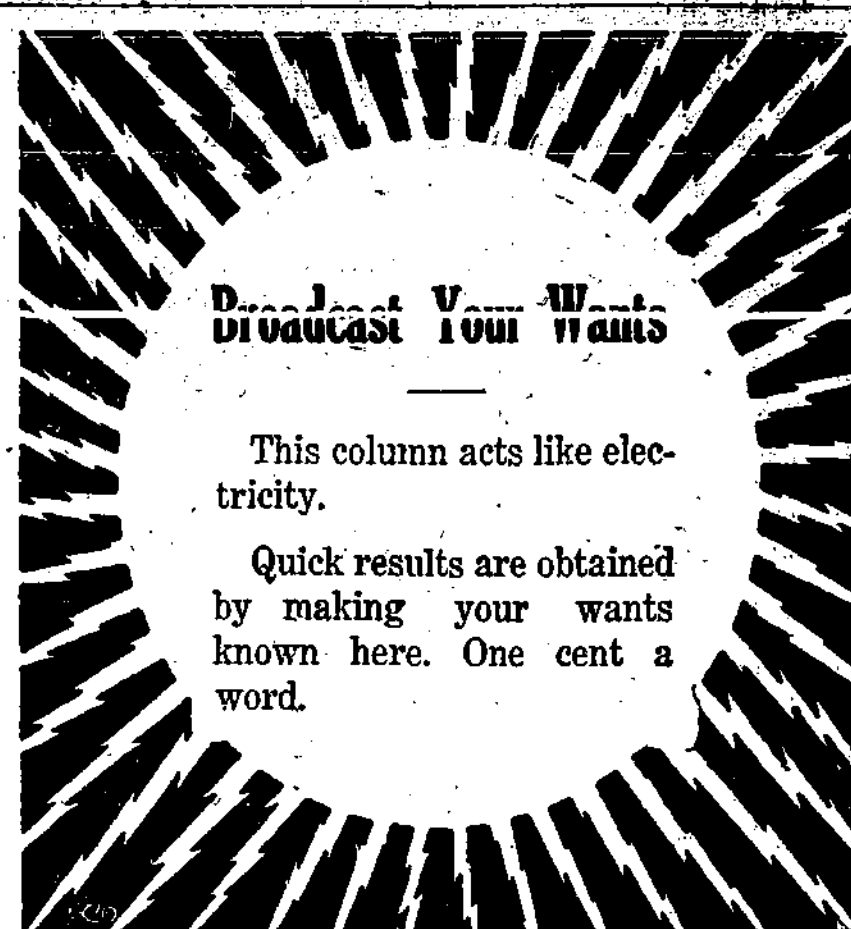

According to Wall street, the Van Sweringen boys don't intend to stop with this one merger. Ultimately they desire to establish an eastern terminal and connect this with a western terminal.

Stone for Mormon Temple

An enormous deposit of granite was found in the Cottonwood canyons of the Wasatch mountains, about twenty miles from the set site of the Mormon temple at Salt Lake City. Eruptions and glaciers had isolated enormous boulders, which were chiseled out with hand drills and transported by oxen until railroad transportation became possible. Four yokes of oxen were required for each block and every trip was a labored journey of three or four days.

Giving Boy His Chance

A ducky was asked what name he had given his youngest son. "Erasmus Pro Tem Johnson, suh." "But why the 'Pro Tem'?" "Well, suh, dat am to show de name am only temporary, suh. We aggered as how Erasmus might want to choose his own name when he growed up, so we put in 'Pro Tem' as a warin' to de public."

British Expert Reveals

Oil Secret at Death

London—A method of eliminating sulphur from shale oil, thus making it available for full lubricative and illuminating purposes, was discovered by Professor Burks, who recently died, apparently from overwork connected with his investigations, according to the Daily Mail.

He had been employed for years by the government in experimental work at Kimmridge, Dorsetshire, where there are considerable shale deposits, and after heartbreaking efforts discovered a process whereby he was able to reduce the sulphur content of the oil to less than 1 per cent, which was below the government's requirement.

Not satisfied with this, he continued his researches, despite warnings that he was overtaxing his health, and seemed on the eve of achieving complete elimination of sulphur when stricken with the illness resulting in his death. When virtually on his deathbed he disclosed the secret process which, if it proves applicable on a practical scale, says the paper, will open vast sources of valuable oil for Great Britain.
